We celebrate today the Nineteenth Sunday in ordinary time. We see that Jesus' instructions on how to be ready for the coming Judgment continue in the stories and sayings found in today's gospel. We are not to be like the greedy rich man in last Sunday's gospel who planned to store his great harvest in barns rather than to share it. We are, rather to share our wealth with those in need. The antidote for the anxiety brought on by the coming judgment is to relinquish our possession and provide for the needs of others. Our treasure will be in heaven where it will not wear out or be destroyed. The other major way to be ready for the coming judgment is to be watchful. In Luke's gospel, Jesus tells a parable about watchfulness to begin making this point. We must be like servants waiting for the master's return from the wedding banquet so that even if the master comes at midnight, we will be ready for him. This is what the coming of the Son of Man will be like. We are told that Peter asks Jesus whether the parable is meant for them, or the large crowd gathered to listen to him. Without answering Peter's question, Jesus responds with another parable about servants awaiting their master. It begins with a question: "Who, then, is the faithful and prudent steward whom the master will put in charge of his servants to distribute the food allowance at the proper time?" Beloved in Christ, the parables in today's gospel remind us that we should be found doing our jobs when the master arrives. If we are doing our jobs, our reward will be great. But if we relax, neglect our duties, and begin to act like the greedy rich man, it will be very difficult for us to have a place in God's Kingdom. Watchfulness means living in such a consistently moral and obedient way that we are always ready to give an account to God of how we have lived.

Have a good and blessed week.

Fr. Sylvester.

Gospel Meditation

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

There was a young mother in my parish community who was depressed due to financial strain. She prayed for help. One morning before Mass, she placed on the counter a zip-lock bag filled with jewelry and old coins. Smiling, she explained she had been fixing an old cabinet and found the items hidden deep within the walls of her home. One particular coin could be worth as much as $900,000. The contents of the bag—previously unknown to them—were now their prized possession. Their plans changed that week. They had to learn how much it was worth.

This week, the Lord tells us, "For where your treasure is, there also will your heart be" (Luke 12:34). Our lives revolve around what we treasure. When we discover the treasure the Father gives us—the kingdom of God—everything changes. We might not know its precise value, but we rearrange our lives around it. The joy of this discovery should never be far from our minds.

Sometimes we go through times when we can't find this treasure. It seems hidden. Or it appears like dirty old coins and worthless jewelry in a Ziploc bag. But how crazy would my parishioners be if they tossed it away without knowing the cash value? How much crazier are we if we center our hearts on any treasure except that of Jesus and his kingdom? Remember, the Father is pleased to give it to us. That's why we put our hearts there, even when it is hidden.

RECONCILIATION

My last column this past week, concluded a reflection on the Sacrament of Holy Eucharist. This completed a trio of Sacraments we explored called the Sacraments of Initiation: Baptism, Confirmation and Holy Eucharist. These three Sacraments make us fully initiated Catholics. We are now going to move forward with a group of Sacraments called the Sacraments of Healing: The Sacrament of Reconciliation and Anointing of the Sick. Let's begin with a reflection on the Sacrament of Reconciliation. We often wish for chances to receive forgiveness, to redeem past hurts. Can you recall something you did recently that you regret? Something like shouting at a driver who cut you off in traffic or promoting yourself in a way that discounts the efforts of others. How would you feel about asking for forgiveness? Or maybe you were the one who was hurt. Maybe you'd like to offer forgiveness. Feeling the need to seek and extend forgiveness is common among people of good will. When thoughts, words, or actions have been intentionally unloving, relationships - between people and with God - are affected. Reconciliation is needed. We will continue our reflection on the Sacrament of Reconciliation next week.

Have a wonderful and blessed week. Fr. Felician
